

The Golden Path

I want you to see that the Golden Path is to be found in the trials, problems, and difficult situations that confront you right now.

No matter how desperate the situation may seem, there will always be a path that will change everything.

Even in chaotic and incomprehensible situations, there is a path out for everyone involved, a path that will guide them to the best possible reality.

VOICES

Although my body is getting weaker and weaker, I have learned that it is important to keep my mind and body healthy, so I would like to establish the lifestyle according to the Divine Truth by continuing the “practice of gratitude” and “meditation of light”.
(Female, 70's, overseas)

I was thinking that I would spend the time after my retirement in leisurely way, but after my soul's aspiration was brought forth by sensei, I felt that I would like to contribute more to the people around me. I will continue to nurture my Bodaishin.
